Use of inclusive language
We encourage all authors to choose language that is inclusive and respectful. Submissions should not contain anything that might imply that one individual is superior to another on the grounds of race, gender, culture, sexuality, or any other characteristic, and inclusive language should be used throughout. Authors should ensure that writing is free from bias, for instance by using 'he or she', 'his or hers', 'him or her', or the singular gender-neutral 'they, theirs or them'. Further Information on our inclusive language policy can be found in the author guidelines.

Quality is at the heart of what Emerald Publishing does. Acting with integrity and transparency, we seek to build partnerships with authors, editors and readers alike. As such, this journal will never:

- Ask authors to pay a submission fee
- Ask authors to pay an APC (article processing charge) for OA publication prior to acceptance
- Publish works in exchange for gifts or money
- Falsely claim to represent another person or entity
- Use your data without consent

This journal will:

- Ensure your published paper is double-blind peer reviewed
- Ensure accepted works are published, hosted and made discoverable via the Emerald Insight platform
- Assign DOIs to accepted work and preserve the published version of record via digital preservation archiving schemes (LOCKSS, CLOCKSS & Portico)
- Act in accordance with the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) in dealing with matters of ethical misconduct
